FIREMEN SAVE DWELLING FROM MIDNIGHT BLAZE

Efficient work by the Fairfield Fire Company at midnight Friday saved the frame home of John Warrenfeltz, Fairfield Station, from destruction by fire as flames burned two outbuildings.

The big frame dwelling "was scorched by the intense heat from the rapidly burning wash house and outdoor storage building nearby but the firemen, using water supplied by booster tanks, saved the home.

Cause of the fire was not determined but firemen said the flames apparently had started in the wash house where there had been a fire in a stove.

Damage was placed at about $500 by Fairfield firemen. Most of the contents of the buildings, including a deep freeze unit, were not badly damaged.

The firemen received the call at 11:40 p.m. and responded with both trucks. They returned at 1:20 a.m.

Many visitors offer pay for the information and literature that is distributed without charge and one July visitor's comment: "It's so nice to come to a community where you are not charged for everything" is typical of remarks received in many forms, according to Mrs. Ruth

Perseid Meteors To Appear Next Week

August's shower of meteors (shooting stars) will begin Sunday night and continue the next several weeks. The most spectacular displays are to occur next Tuesday and Wednesday nights between the hours of 10 p.m. and 2 a.m.

Concentration of the flashing meteors late at night is caused by the earth's passing through an area in which there is a swarm of matter probably from a dismembered comet. The meteor phenomenon is produced when pieces of the matter are drawn into the earth's gravitational pull.

This month's meteor concentration is referred to as the Perseid group since it appears to move from the constellation Perseus. The shooting stars will appear in the eastern sky at early evening and will shift higher reaching almost overhead at midnight.

Astronomers explain that most meteors are tiny pieces of matter, producing brilliant streaks in the sky by the friction generated when they strike the earth's atmosphere. Most meteors they point out are burned out before they reach the ground.

By MILO FARNETI

PANMUNJOM (P)—Some laughter and joy came to Panmunjom today as 90 Americans returned to freedom in obviously better health and spirits than those liberated in the first three days of the great Korean prisoner exchange.

There were few maimed and haggard men in today's group.

HAVE NO CLUE TO MURDER OF THREE HUNTERS

QUEBEC (AP) — Provincial police have apparently run into a blank wall in their efforts to solve the gruesome slaying of three Pennsylvania hunters in the Gaspé Peninsula.

Authorities disclosed yesterday that ballistics tests have shown that the hunters' four rifles had not been fired, giving substance to their theory that the hunters were murdered. But officials hinted they are no closer to a solution than they were when the victims' bearmounted remains were found last month.

Bizarre Case

The victims in one of the most bizarre murder cases in Quebec history were Eugene Lindsey, 45, his 17-year-old son, Richard, both of Hollidaysburg and Fred Clair, 20, of East Freedom.

The hunters left Hollidaysburg June 5 for the picturesque Gaspé Peninsula on a hunting trip.

At a coroner's inquest, a 37-year-old prospector, Wilbert Coffin, last man known to have seen the hunters alive, testified that two other hunters were with the Pennsylvanians when he met them in the bush June 10. He said the Lindseys introduced the two as "friends from the states."

Police have declined to say what steps have been taken to trace the two strangers.

FRENCH STRIKE NEARING CLOSE

PARIS (AP) — French civil servants began trooping back to work today as the nation's worst general strike since the Popular Front days of 1936 sputtered toward a close. But mail, telegraph, telephone, gas and electric power services remained out.

Buses and subways roared back into operation and government employees were at their desks when offices opened this morning. Trains chugged out of Paris' big stations. Elsewhere, however, the rail strike continued.

The returning workers were among an estimated two million Frenchmen employed in a variety of public services from street sweepers and grave diggers to rail workers who left their jobs at midnight Thursday in protest against Premier Joseph Laniel's rumored plans to save money at their expense.

Cut Tobacco With Shears, Not Hatchets

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP) — Tobacco farmers in this area are going to cut their crop this season with long handled shears instead of hatchets.

Walter Melnick, Hampshire County Agricultural Agent, said today "they may think we are nuts but we are going to experiment harvesting tobacco with long handled shears."

He said a group of Hampshire County farmers picked up the idea when they visited Lancaster, Pa. last year. They noted, he said, that producers there using the shear method could cut the tobacco as fast as a man could walk and the product lay flat on the ground.

Tobacco growers here have used hatchets for years to harvest their crop.

Hungry People Elude Reds To Get Yank Food

BERLIN (AP) — The Russian zone Communists reportedly clamped severe new restrictions on travel into Berlin today in a desperate attempt to prevent a weekend rush of East Germans to American free food stations here. But thousands of hungry and resourceful made it anyhow.

The newest Red measures aimed at stopping even cyclists and pedestrians from getting across the sector border. They were said to have been ordered after a one-week ban on the sale of railroad tickets and direct assaults by Red stormtroopers failed to smash the relief campaign.

Defy Arrest

Defying arrest and persecution, the East Germans thumbed their noses at the Communist police by finding or making new loopholes.

Lines formed at the food stations before midmorning and the vast giveaway was expected to pass the two-million-parcel mark over the weekend. Yesterday 108,000 parcels were distributed—64,000 to residents of the Russian occupation zone—bringing the total for 12 days to 1,865,000.

Ike Is Accused By Iran Newspapers

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Tehran newspapers supporting Premier Mohammed Mossadeq today accused President Eisenhower of meddling in strictly Iranian affairs.

Angered by the President's comments Tuesday to the annual Governors' Conference in Seattle, the pro-government morning paper Shureh snapped: "Iran needs no interference by foreigners. The nation has no need of a nurse."

Eisenhower told the governors that the advance of communism in Iran and Southeast Asia has created a "very ominous" threat to American security.

JUSTICE DEPT. TAKES OVER IN MAYOCK PROBE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has taken over investigation of transactions involving $65,000 paid Welburn Mayock, a lawyer, for getting a favorable tax ruling.

Mayock testified he paid $30,000 of this into Democratic campaign fund coffers in 1948, and that he got the ruling after a personal appeal to then Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder.

The Mayock case was among the last unearthed by a House ways and means subcommittee which yesterday wound up more than two years of a frequently sensational inquiry into handling of tax matters during the Truman administration.

FBI Called In

Justice Department officials announced yesterday the FBI will investigate the case.

Mayock, who described himself as a volunteer counsel for the Democratic National Committee in 1948, told the House group earlier this week he got the $65,000 from William S. Lasdon, chemical company executive of Yonkers, N. Y., after obtaining the Treasury Department ruling favoring Lasdon.

Snyder, now vice president of Willis-Overland Motors, Inc., at Toledo, Ohio, has said he does not recall the incident.

IKE SIGNS 3 KEY MEASURES

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, vacation-bound today, could leave at least one care behind him—the principal measures governing U. S. foreign policy for the next year are all on the law books.

He signed these key bills yesterday:

1. The hard-fought 6½ billion dollar appropriation for military and economic aid to friendly nations. It carried 645 millions less than his "honest minimum figure" and marked a shift in military aid emphasis to the Far East. For this area, $1,035,000,000 was earmarked, compared with $521,700,000 for 1953. Europe was allotted $1,860,000,000 in new money, compared with $3,047,200,000 last year.

2. The bill extending the reciprocal trade program to next June 12. The President said it reaffirms this country's intention to cooperate "on a mutually profitable basis" with friends overseas.

3. The measure authorizing him to send up to 100 million dollars worth of surplus farm products to friendly peoples. It permits distribution to those under Red rule, like the East Germans, who already have defied communists masters to get U. S. food.

"I SPOKE TO MAN UPSTAIRS"

INCHON, Korea (AP) — Sgt. James W. Richardson looked down at his rosary.

"I spoke daily and frequently to the man upstairs," he said. "I guess you would call it praying."

Sgt. Richardson, of Philadelphia, is at Inchon awaiting shipment home. He came out of 27 miserable months of Red imprisonment Thursday in the Korean POW exchange at Panmunjom and told of Red controls on prisoners' religious services.

"I had the wife and kids in mind all the time," he said in an interview.

"Just Talked To Him" "I said some prayers up there naturally. But most of the time I just talked to him. I honestly believe that is how I pulled through." Richardson, a Roman Catholic, said religious services were forbidden at first in the Red prison camps.

At Easter, 1952, the Chinese superintendent of Camp 3 allowed the Catholics to hold a service—but the Reds forbade them to use the names of the saints and struck the name of the Lord from many of the prayers they were going to use.

The men conducted the service themselves. There was no priest.

"TRIVIAL THINGS"

To me the little things of life . . . place highly in my heart . . . a silver star, a baby's smile . . . to me are priceless art . . . the flowers or a friendly word . . . mean very much to me . . . for though they may seem trivial . . . their worth is three times three . . . a bit of childish laughter or . . . the tears that wet their eyes . . . do far exceed a hill of gold . . . I could proclaim a thousand things . . . that do not seem like much . . . and yet when they are gone from view . . . we miss their golden touch . . . for I believe real happiness . . . is not hard to be found . . . if we regard the trivial things . . . we like to be around.

Mrs. Sappington will return in a few weeks to Tampa, Fla.

Miss Beatrice Stoker has returned to her Philadelphia home after spending several days with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayard O. Whittington and sons, Carlton and Charles, are moving from the Peter C. Brown property at the West End to that of her father, George E. Mummert, who purchased the house in June at public sale from R. Eugene Tanner. Mrs. Whittington, formerly Miss Arlene E. Mummert, is somewhat improved after some months' treatment for a palsy condition.

Although detailed reports of proceeds are yet to be released, it is believed that the annual picnic for the benefit of Paradise Catholic Church, conducted August 1 at Adams County Fairgrounds, was among the most successful of recent years, with a large number attending from outside the parish.

Wayne D. Thomas, a graduate of the 1947 class of the local high school, is in California for several weeks to fill engagements as a vocalist for "supper club" entertainment as he has done in several states within recent years. He expects to return in September to his duties as a clerk and window-dresser at a York jewelry store.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Taylor and three little daughters are now occupying the former DeBolt house, which they bought when the DeBolts went to reside in Carlisle. Mr. Taylor, of the local high school faculty, and his family had resided for several years at the East End apartment of George L. Shetter, and their apartment will now be the home of another high school teacher, Paul Orner, and Mrs. Orner, who have come from Clarion. Mr. Orner is the new vocational agriculture supervisor, replacing Raymond E. Tribby, who has moved to the New Oxford area and who is doing other work.

Aaron O. Jacobs, a native and former post office clerk of East Berlin, now a resident of York where he has worked in a bank for several years, was a recent visitor to East Berlin relatives.

Mrs. Mervin D. Myers, R. 3, is recovering nicely at her home after her return from the Warner Hospital where she submitted to an operation.

Dennis, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Ruth, R. 3, has returned after spending several days in New Bridgeville as a guest of his grandparents, the Rev. and Mrs. Snyder Allemen. The Rev. Mr. Allemen is a former pastor of the local Lutheran Church.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Eisenhart Jr., who had been living near Mummert's Meeting House with his parents, have moved to the Artie Gulden farm property in Hamilton Twp.

A Notice to New Home Buyers and Builders . . .

Annual gas deliveries to The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company customers have increased about 170 per cent during the past seven years. At the present time we are furnishing gas for heating the homes of one of every three of our residential customers. That represents a 700% gain in that period.

That's a substantial growth in gas service—made possible, however, only by the completion of a $72,200,000 construction program over the seven years.

Despite this expansion, we are not in a position to approve additional heating installations at the present.

However, there are still a few new homes being put up for sale with unauthorized gas heating installations.

If you build or buy one of those homes, we must say to you that we cannot supply you with gas for heating it.

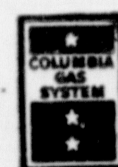

If you are planning to buy or build a new home, then save yourself that discomfort and inconvenience. Be sure the home you plan to buy is covered by a permit for gas heat.

The regulations under which we are now operating are designed to protect service to all our customers.

We are certain you'll agree that it would be unfair to jeopardize gas service to homes, business places and industries throughout our territory by allowing illegal gas heating installations to drain off gas we now have available for authorized customers.

If you are looking for a new home, then let us caution you again:

Be sure the home you plan to buy is covered by a permit for gas heat!

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO
Local Soldier Wed Saturday:
Sgt. Walter T. Dunbar, former Gettysburg Life Insurance agent, now stationed at Camp Barkley, Texas, and Miss Myrtle V. McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. McDonald, Newville, were united in marriage last Saturday evening at the First Church of God in Newville.

Garments Serving Men In Two Wars: The much traveled sweater and muffler presented by Roy Enoch, W. Middle St., has continued its travels, started during the first World War, on into the second World War, the local Red Cross office learned today.

The muffler and sweater were made by a New Jersey chapter of the Red Cross in 1917 and presented to Mr. Enoch when he went overseas that year. He wore them through the war and kept them until a short time ago when he turned them over to the local Red Cross for presentation to some soldier. Today the Red Cross learned that the articles have been given to a Chaplain Hohn who is starting for foreign duty in the northwest Pacific area.

Major E. J. Nowicki Completes Course: Maj. Edward J. Nowicki Jr., has completed the Advanced Officers course of the Infantry School at Fort Benning, and has been assigned to duty there. Major Nowicki is a graduate of Gettysburg College. His wife is the former Miss Christine Meyer, of Gettysburg.

Local Cadets Are Feted At Dinner: Aircrew students of the class which recently completed its flight and ground training at Gettysburg College were feted Wednesday evening at a dinner at the Hotel Gettysburg. Over 100 cadets and guests attended the affair.

Capt. John R. Coshey, Lt. J. R. Floyd and Donald Heiges gave short talks in which they commended the outgoing soldiers. Aircrew Student Dante Massaro acted as master of ceremonies. Lts. F. H. Wilcox, Homer E. Tabler Jr. and J. C. Young were also guests at the dinner.

New Pool On Mount Campus: The latest outdoor swimming pool in the Emmitsburg vicinity is being completed at Mount Saint Mary's College. The pool, which will cost about $15,000 when completed, is being constructed on the site of St. Anthony's Lake, long a familiar part of the scene of the college campus. The lake, which the pool replaces, dates back to 1830 when the students of the Mount dammed up a small stream running through the college campus. The new pool is 140 feet long and 130 feet wide and will range in depth from four to 12 feet. It is to be used in swimming training for the naval air cadets and sailors at the Mount.

E. E. Duckstad Is Made Major: Eric E. Duckstad, 25-year-old son of Mrs. Kendrick Lynch, Breidenbaugh Apts., Carlisle St., has been promoted to the rank of major in the regular army, according to word received by his mother. Major Duckstad, who was a West Point graduate, is adjutant of the tactics department of the Armored Force School at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

Miss Shields Weds Saturday: Miss Doris Leoda Shields, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William I. Shields, N. Washington St. and F. Richard McLaughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. McLaughlin Sr., Steelton, were united in marriage Saturday morning (Aug. 7) in the chapel at the SCA building on the Gettysburg College campus. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert B. Rau, Gettysburg. Miss Shirley Sherman, E. Middle St., was bridesmaid.

Mr. McLaughlin graduated from Gettysburg College this spring and has been inducted into the U. S. Marine corps. He will begin active duty August 17. The bride is a graduate of Gettysburg High School and is employed as a clerk in the office at the Middletown Air Depot.

Thomas Bullett Gets Commission: Thomas N. Bullett, son of Attorney and Mrs. Eugene V. Bullett, was commissioned Saturday as a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army at exercises held at the headquarters.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

SITTER-OUTER
I have to leave dancing to others because I can't wait around as I did once.
If I try it, for breath I must frequently pause—
A bodily weakness I hid once.

Now I sit on the sideline with company gay
I'd gladly have whirled in a two-step.
I haven't the heart for the rhumbas they play
And I never have learned any new step.

When discussing the weather my partner and I
At the side of the room may be sitting.
I am asked: "Why not dancing?"
I promptly reply:
"At the moment I'm just baby sitting."

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE GENTLE RAIN
This Talk is being written in my small cabin on my island in Grand Lake, Nova Scotia. There is a gentle rain falling, which began at daylight. The lake is smooth and there is hardly a breeze, just little motions of the outgrowing limbs of the hemlocks and pines. Pine sparrows, and other varieties of small birds, happily flit from tree to tree.

There is something peaceful, relaxing and uplifting about a rain like this. We stay in our cabin reading and writing, and gathering up a few of the fragments of happiness neglected during the sunny hours. I look out upon the lagoon and watch the raindrops as they touch the surface of the water, and the thirsty earth seems so content with its morning bath, freshened for the day of sunshine later to appear.

Nature's inhabitants seem as content on rainy days as when the sun is shining. It's their world and they take it as it comes. We can learn from them. There are virtues to every variety of weather. We might as well get used to accepting each as it is furnished us—for the weather man has his own ideas and he never changes them to fit the whim of any of us.

So, let us welcome even the mild rainy days that mean life and growth to all nature. Looking out of my window I note the falling drops of rain from the green foliage of the pines, and they fall like discarded pearls and hide in the grass beneath. Then they sink in the rich earth and the Great Chemist gets busy in his great laboratory!

These quiet, gentle rainy days are wonderful for meditation. They are really the creative days. They are days in which to count out blessings, to send messages of love and remembrance to those are dear to us, and they are days in which to do things that we always planned to do! Welcome—the gentle rain!

Anniversary of Nawakwa Held: Camp Nawakwa, Lutheran Leadership Training Camp in the first range of the South Mountains of upper Adams County where more than 11,000 young people have received training in Christian leadership since the camp ground was dedicated in June of 1929, marked its fifteenth anniversary with special exercises Sunday.

Special cognizance of the anniversary was taken at all camp services Sunday but the observation reached its climax at exercises conducted at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon on the camp grounds with the Rev. Marshall Brenneman presiding.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Robert H. Fischer, youngest son of the late Dr. M. Hadwin Fischer, founding director of the camp, whose memory was especially honored at Sunday's rites. The Rev. Mr. Fischer is now a student at the Yale Divinity School. Speakers included the Rev. Ernest J. Hohl, Lancaster, representative of the camp's board of directors and Rev. Arthur H. Getz, Philadelphia, secretary of the Parish and Church School Board of the ULCA.

Show Interest In Securing Locker Plant: If the interest already shown in the construction of a refrigerated locker plant her by the Artic Locker System, of York, is any criterion, the construction of the plant here is assured, endorsers of the plan said today.

The Chamber of Commerce office, which is receiving the applications, said that a large number had already been received this morning and that, at the rate the applications are flowing in, the 300 lockers that must be rented before the project can get underway will be disposed of in the very near future.

AMERICA GIVES RHEE PLEDGE OF ASSISTANCE

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
SEOUL (AP)—A treaty pledging America's military might in defense of war-battered South Korea if Red armies break the truce and attack again was initiated here today.

The mutual security pact, which must win U. S. Senate approval, was initiated by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and ROK Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai. The ceremonies in President Syngman Rhee's hillside mansion climaxed four days of important conferences between Rhee and Dulles.

16 Give Promise
It came as U. N. headquarters in New York announced that 16 Allied nations with troops in Korea have promised to take up arms again in the event of a new Communist attack. But Britain and Canada later hedged their commitment.

Dulles and Rhee, in a joint statement issued as the security pact was initiated, hailed their work as

White Sox Fall 6 Games Behind Yanks; Top Division Clubs Win In National League

By BEN PHLEGAR

More and more it looks as if the Chicago White Sox are going to need outside help if they hope to overhaul the fast-moving New York Yankees.

The Sox went into today's doubleheader in New York trailing the world champions by six games. After today the clubs meet only six more times, meaning of course that the most the Chicagoans could possibly make up by their own efforts would be six games.

Where the Sox can find that outside help is another question since so far this season they are the only club that has as much as broken even with Casey Stengel's crew.

Series Stands Even
After yesterday's 6-1 victory by the Yankees, the season's series stood all even at seven games each.

It looked for awhile as if the Sox were going to jump off to a comfortable margin in the second inning of the first contest when with one out they pounded Eddie Lopat for four straight hits, a double and three singles. But the attack netted only one run as a squeeze play failed and the Yankees settled the issue in the very next inning.

Lopat started it with a single. Joe Collins walked and when Minnie Minoso missed a quick cutoff on Mickey Mantle's liner to left center, the fleet-footed Yankee circled the bases as fast as you can say, "When do they start selling World Series tickets." The next man up, made the runs look legitimate by poking the ball into the right field seats. Billy Martin homered with one aboard in the eighth.

Red Sox Beat Tribe
The Yankees gained another full game over the third-place Cleveland Indians, who bowed to Boston 4-2. Brilliant fielding by Jim Piersall and relief pitching by Ellis Kinder saved Mel Parnell's 15th victory. Philadelphia edged Detroit 3-1 in one of the fastest games of the year, an hour and 42 minutes, and Connie Marrero of Washington shut out St. Louis on three hits 12-0.

In the National League the Brooklyn Dodgers maintained their 7½-game lead over Milwaukee as all of the first division teams triumphed. The Dodgers trounced Cincinnati 9-4. Milwaukee whipped Pittsburgh 9-2. Philadelphia nosed out Chicago 5-4, and St. Louis handed New York its 10th loss in 13 games 2-1.

Kellner fanned seven in beating Ralph Branca and the Tigers for his 10th victory. Gus Zernial hit his 27th home run for the A's.
7th Shutout At Capital
Marrero's shutout was the seventh one in the last eight games at Washington. His mates backed him with an 11-hit attack on three Brownie hurlers with Harry Brecheen taking the loss.

The Brooklyn game at Cincinnati was interrupted for 42 minutes by rain in the middle of the sixth inning, after the Dodgers had just scored three runs and were leading 3-2.

Stan Musial got the cards off in front against New York with a first-inning home run and after the Giants tied it in the fourth on an infield hit by Don Mueller and a double by Davey Williams, the Cardinals pushed across the winning run in the bottom of the fourth with a double by Ray Jablonski and a single by Steve Bilko. Wilmer Mizell went all the way for his 10th victory.

Kiner Gets 27th
The Phillies are 9½ games behind the Dodgers but they play like champions when they encounter the Cubs. Their triumph yesterday was their 13th in 14 meetings. The Phils bunched their eight hits into two innings and had only one other base runner. Ralph Kiner hit his 27th home run for Chicago.
Vern Bickford, one of the few Braves who didn't show immediate improvement in the move from Boston to Milwaukee, turned in a five-hitter in his first start since June 24. Del Crandall hit a two-run homer for the Braves. The victory was Bickford's second of the season.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Pitching—Connie Marrero, Washington Senators, shutout the St. Louis Browns, on three hits, winning 12-0.
Batting—Mel Parnell, Boston Red Sox, collected two hits and drove in three runs to help win his own game over Cleveland, 4-2.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

By The Associated Press
SEATTLE—Don Cockell, 21½, London, outpointed Harry "Kid" Matthews, 180, Seattle, 10.
MIAMI, Fla.—Rocky Casillo, 148½, Blue Island, Ill., outpointed Al Pellegrini, 147½, New Orleans, 10.

Dave Sisler Blanks Albany Nine, 3-0

By The Associated Press

Maybe his pop taught Dave Sisler of the Eastern League Albany Senators to keep cool in the clutch. The son of ex-major-leaguer George Sisler showed not a tremor last night when the Williamsport Athletics threatened to spoil his five-hit shutout. Sisler struck out a dangerous hitter with the bases loaded and went on to win, 3-0.

It was the Senators' second triumph of the night. Helped by Al Van Alstyne's home run, Bobby Brake survived a 10-hit attack by the Athletics and posted a 6-4 victory before 9,000 Albany fans.

In other games, the Reading Indians sliced a game off the league lead of the Binghamton Triplets by beating them, 6-5. The Elmira Pioneers dropped the Wilkes-Barre Barons twice, 1-0 and 8-3, and the Schenectady Blue Jays trounced the Scranton Miners, 8-4.

SEIXAS, TRABERT TOPPLED FROM JERSEY MATCH

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J. (AP)—America's chief hopes for regaining the Davis Cup were on the sidelines today as three Australians and the U. S. intercollegiate champion matched strokes in the semifinal round of the Eastern Grass Court Tennis Championships.
The two 18-year-old Australian tennis wonders, Ken Rosewall and Lewis Hoad, met in one of the matches. In the other Rex Hartwig, another Aussie, tangled with Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La.

This country's chief Davis Cup hopes bowed out of the tournament yesterday when Hartwig eliminated Wimbledon Champion Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Rosewall toppled Tony Trabert of Cincinnati. Hartwig won 9-11, 6-3, 7-5; Rosewall 4-6, 8-6, 6-1.

Hoad, who with Rosewall is expected to represent Australia in the Challenge Round in December, disposed of the top-ranking American, Gardner Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla. 4-6, 8-6, 6-1. Richardson moved up at the expense of Noel Brown of Los Angeles 6-3, 6-2.
And to make the Aussies' dominance over the Americans more complete, Rosewall and Hoad defeated Seixas and Richardson 7-5, 6-3, 3-6, 4-6, 6-3 to go into the final round of the doubles.

KILLED IN FALL

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—George H. Wandling, 66, of 814 N. Pennsylvania Ave., Morrisville, Pa., died last night of injuries suffered when he fell 35 feet from the top of a stairwell.

Wandling, trustee of the Episcopal Church of the Incarnation in Morrisville, died a few hours after the fall in the Morrisville community house.

BRITISHER WINS SPLIT DECISION FROM THE "KID"

SEATTLE (AP)—A body blow thrown in the desperation of a losing battle doubled up the veteran Harry (Kid) Matthews of Seattle last night and put the fat but agile British heavyweight champion, Don Cockell, on the road to a 10-round split decision victory.

A crowd of 14,868, which paid a record $96,806 to see the scrap, was as surprised as the 180-pound Matthews at the sudden ninth-round explosion. Cockell, who outweighed Matthews by 31½ pounds, was bleeding from a deep gash over his left cheekbone and seemed all but whipped after eight rounds.

Then he caught Matthews with the sweeping smash to the mid-section and blasted the Seattle veteran on the jaw before he hit the canvas in the first of three nine-count knockdowns in that decisive ninth round.

There were howls of rage in the Matthews camp after the decision was announced. Only Judge Eddie Pinkerton favored the 31-year-old "Kid," 51 points to 49. Judge Jim Grand had it 50½ to 49½ for Cockell and Referee Jimmy Wilson voted for the Britisher 55 to 45.

But the fight was decided entirely on points. The Associated Press scorecard had Matthews winning six rounds, with two going to Cockell and two even—but split the points, 55 to each man.

Blocked Out At Plate

Gus Zernial, Philadelphia Athletics outfielder, is tagged out at home plate in first inning of game with Chicago White Sox as Gus tried to score from second on Eddie Robinson's single to right. Sam Mele's throw to White Sox catcher Sherman Lollar cut him down. There's no doubt how umpire Art Passarella calls the play. White Sox won, 6-4.

PORKY OLIVER TAKES LEAD IN "WORLD" MEET

CHICAGO (AP)—Ed (Porky) Oliver, father of four and undoubtedly golf's most celebrated breadwinner, may have found the keys to the Ft. Knox of the tournament circuit.

The affable 220-pounder, probably thinking of all the mouths he has to feed, has gone hog-wild in the chase for the $25,000 first prize of the "World's" Golf championship at Tam O'Shanter.

The short-iron master got in this enviable position of golf's richest tournament by calmly shooting a second-round 67 yesterday while some first-round leaders were choking up under the pressure.

The 67 gave the 36-year-old pro from Palm Springs, Calif., a neat 135, seven strokes under par, at the halfway point, and a chance at Tam's 72-hole record of 269 set by Byron Nelson in 1945.

Bunched on Oliver's heels at 137 were Dave Douglas, the personable PGA vice president who had yesterday's best round, a 65; Bob Toski, a 123-pounder who hits the ball a country mile; and Lew Worsham, the first-round leader who forfeited 5 strokes to par in the last six holes after a brilliant 33 on the first nine to wind up with a 72.

Family Of Six At Glider Meeting

KITCHENER, Ont. (AP)—All six members of an Erie, Pa., family are attending the week-long Soaring Association of Canada glider meet here and they said today they would rather fly than eat.

Larry Gehrlin and his wife hold pilot's licenses for powered aircraft. Their son, Larry, Jr., confines his flying to gliders. Two other sons, Jay, 11, and Rodney, 7, have been on flying trips several times and hope to be pilots and a six-year-old daughter, Cindy, had also been an aircraft passenger.

New Oxford

NEW OXFORD—Mr. and Mrs. Guy Miller, near here, became the parents of a son at the Hanover Hospital July 31. Mrs. Miller was formerly Miss Arlene Rinehart, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Rinehart, near Pine Run.

The next group to represent the local Catholic church in the annual Laymen's Retreat series at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, will include: Reginald Miller, Louis Smith, Donald J. O'Brien, Francis Carbaugh, Curvin A. Miller, John A. Staub, John W. Smith, Joseph Carbaugh, Gerald O'Brien, John Sneringer, and Eugene Overbaugh. This retreat will begin Friday evening, August 14.

Mrs. Annie Peterman, 81, has returned to her home after a recent operation at the Hanover Hospital for the removal of her gall bladder. Mrs. Peterman is in a satisfactory condition, despite her age.

Satisfaction has been expressed with the proceeds of the public card party for the benefit of the local Catholic parish, conducted July 29, at the Dicks' Dam cottage of Mrs. Ambrose P. Wagner, with parish women assisting in the provision of homemade refreshments which were also on sale.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Feiser and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde O. Garber were among the large group attending the recent reunion of the Gerber-Garber family, conducted near York.

A number of members of the Youth club of the local Catholic parish will spend Sunday afternoon at the Marsh Creek Heights cottage of the Miller family for a swimming party given for young people of Catholic parishes of the Conewago Deanery. The activities, including swimming, boating and games with prizes, will begin at 2:30 p.m. Each participant will bring a box lunch.

Mrs. C. Clark Brown is assisting at the gift shop of C. William Noel in the Park Hotel building at the square. Mrs. Floyd Rightmire, mother of Mrs. Noel, had assisted there for some time, moved some months ago to her former home at Binghamton, N. Y.

Mrs. Wagner, who spends each summer at the cottage with her family, recently entertained there her eldest son, Bernard A. Wagner.

Believes Many GI's "Missing" Are Alive

BELMONT, Mass. (AP)—Retired Gen. James A. Van Fleet estimated last night that a large percentage of the 8,000 American soldiers listed as missing in Korea still are alive.

The former commander of the 8th Army in Korea said in an interview that Gen. Mark Clark's estimate of at least 3,000 GIs still held captive by the Communists is "conservative."

Van Fleet and his wife stopped in Belmont while making a motor tour of New England.

16 TEAMS SEEK LEGION TITLE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sixteen teams remained in the running today for the 1953 Pennsylvania American Legion junior baseball championship.

The list must be cut to six regional champions for the start of the state tournament at Reading, Aug. 19 and continues through Aug. 22.

Seven teams were eliminated from further regional play last night. They included Towanda, Ephrata, Danville, Hollidaysburg, Waterford, Punksutawney, and Souderton.

The remaining contenders are: Section 1—Philadelphia, Cahill and Swarthmore. Section 2—Allentown and Olymphant. Section 3—Harrisburg and Red Lion. Section 4—Lock Haven and Dubois. Section 5—West Derr, Vandergrift, Grindstone, Washington and Ebensburg. Section 6—St. Mary's, Ford City and New Castle.

and his family, York; her sister-in-law, Miss Anna Wagner, Hanover; also the Raymond Wagner family from the Wilkes-Barre area.

The Rev. Philip J. Gergen, who has been unable to attend to active duties as pastor of the local Catholic parish since being stricken with a severe heart attack while attending a retreat at Emmitsburg in June, and who has been hospitalized at the Lancaster Hospital and at a rest-cure since that time, returned this week to the rectory and was able to celebrate mass on Friday.

The Rev. George Zorn of the Jesuit Order, who has spent several weeks here to attend to parish duties during Father Gergen's illness, also acted as celebrant for many of the recent services of the Forty Hours Devotion for Paradise Catholic Church, in the neighboring parish.

Paul D. Miller, a member of the local Catholic parish, who has been studying for the priesthood and is now spending the summer at his home, was among a group of seminarians of this section of the state who made up a volunteer choir to furnish music for the services of the Paradise Forty Hours Devotions. An outside choir was necessary because of the precautionary police quarantine which kept students of the Paradise School for Boys from sending their choir to attend to church music as usual.

Organist for the choir was another seminarian, Thomas Smith, also of near New Oxford, who has been on vacation this summer at his family's home.

Lives Thru 15 Min. In Revolving Mixer

Better Cooling Ahead

A new note in summer driving this year is the chance for better cooling because of attention to the fan belt's needs. Tests have shown that many a belt is slipping more than the owner suspects, especially at high road speeds. This lowers the water pump's efficiency. Now that you can treat belts with special dressings and sprayed on solutions there is no excuse for losing power through belt slippage. Many a belt this year will be far short of desired efficiency just because the owner used questionable remedies for squealing last winter. Fortunately the new ways to check belt noise now also make for longer belt life and the efficiency that makes for cooler hot weather operation.

Chopping That Flywheel

Appropos of the business of chipping weight from the engine's flywheel—a process known to the "hop-up" trade as flywheel chopping—it is interesting to note that while a reduction in flywheel weight theoretically improves an engine's acceleration ability there are disadvantages if the car is to be successfully used for normal driving. Some years ago I recall a car that could not be started unless the clutch was left engaged. This puzzled the less mechanically minded gentry because they could not see why cranking would not be aided by relieving the starting-motor and the battery of the extra load of churning over the transmission gears.

What happened was that this particular car was equipped with a too light flywheel. There just wasn't enough weight to carry over and provide the necessary spin. With the clutch left engaged the actual flywheel weight effect was increased.

Thought In Passing

In buying a car from a friend or someone known to be a responsible citizen it would be convenient to have access to his repair bills, but I for one would be especially interested in his driving methods. You might not guess that I would not look with special favor on the merchandise being offered for sale if the driver were known to be the kind who never goes over 40 miles per hour. A modern car needs a certain percentage of highway speed to be in good condition. Not only does the more sprightly gait keep the engine in better form but it is important to observe that it couldn't keep up with highway travelers unless it were also given systematic service.

"If, when testing the engine, compression increases as cranking continues the indications are that the rings are the reason for the below par compression. This is explained by the fact that increased speed of the engine makes the rings more effective. Another way to prove ring conditions is to put some oil into the cylinder being checked. An increase in reading then means that the rings are now sealing better and are below par without the extra oil. Do not squirt oil into the cylinders because you do not want the oil to get around the valves. That would be misleading."

Check On Power

To those motorists who are not noise conscious I just want to remind them that by not having excessive tappet clearances corrected they may wind up with a lot less efficiency and power from the motor. Restricted valve lift cuts down the quantity of gas vapor being sucked into the cylinders, if the intake valves do not have normal lift. If the trouble is with exhaust valve lift gases do not exit as quickly. Anyway you look at it the situation adds up to power loss. Sometimes there is a tendency toward overheating as well.

Just Where We Started

It is unfortunate that as motor-dom makes one gain it seems to slip back in another field. I am encouraged by the increased number of motorists who refer to high octane gasoline as "premium" gas rather than "high test" which it is not. But there's no cause for cheering over the way the factory engineers continue to urge car owners to rotate tires by the basic criss-cross methods. This has actually resulted in encouraging accidents, not to mention the noise which follows when a tread suitable for only a rear wheel is used on a front wheel. How tires are rotated or changed depends not only on the tires used, but on the characteristics of the car, the roads over which it is driven and the way the operator handles the car.

Appropos Of Brakes

It's one of those make-shifts which doesn't have universal approval but in some cases of persistent difficulty obtaining equalization of front brakes use of a slightly narrower set of shoes on the brakes that pulls has evened the score.

On cars which have the hand brake operating through the two rear wheel brake cylinders it helps, when releasing the hand brake, to press hard on the foot pedal.

By Popular Request

Judging from recent inquiries it may be well for me to repeat an item which I wrote in this column some 15 years ago.

Those hard knocks the car received from time, I said, may have some far-reaching effects, and it is well to consider them when some unit starts to develop trouble that is not accounted for by the usual checking? Perfect example is the way a rear tire will suddenly develop premature wear. First inclination is to suspect a dragging brake or lack of equalization. But the shortest cut to understanding the situation is to think back to the day the rear end got a banging.

Maybe it was the time you skidded into the curb, bending the wheel or possibly the end of the axle housing. Or it may have been due to overloading the rear end and then striking some particularly abnormal rear tire wear because the rear axle housing was sprung when the car was dropped carelessly from its carrier truck.

Some Can't Be Balanced

Now that it is possible to buy inexpensive equipment for balancing tires it may be well to recall a point which skilled balancers have known for years. I refer to the fact that some tires are so badly out of balance, sometimes when new, that it doesn't pay to try to balance them. All you do is collect a lot of balance wheels and then have to do the job all over again. This can be more than discouraging. One new balancing system utilizes small magnets to compensate temporarily for the heavy spots, these being replaced by conventional wheel rim weights but divided as to weight by putting half on the inner rim and half on the outer.

Having Their Troubles

Q. The engine of my car tends to stall whenever I take my foot off the accelerator pedal suddenly. Idling speed is normal. The engine doesn't overheat. H. F. S.

A. It is entirely possible that this calls for checking the two carburetors on this motor. They are not balanced.

Q. There's a definite pull to the right when I am slowing down, even on a level road. Front-end alignment is all right, and so far as I can tell the brakes are equalized. What's wrong? B. N. N.

A. The next step would be to check the right front coil spring which probably is weak and needs to be replaced.

Q. I have been told to race the engine for a few moments if the carburetor is clogged. Do you recommend this? Wm. L.

A. The idea is all right if not over-done. The engine should be normally warm at the time. Some owners foolishly do this when the carburetor isn't to blame at all.

Q. In order to avoid over-inflation in hot weather why not start with the tires at lower than their usual pressure? R. K. H.

A. This doesn't work. Pressure build-up is due to heat from flexing of the tire walls and friction from speed. Tests have shown that there is less build-up if the tires are given a little higher pressure at the start when they are cold, especially when taking a trip with the car loaded.

Q. Is brake squeal a sign that the linings have worn thin and that the shoes or rivets are scoring the brake drums? L. F. S.

A. Squeal can also be due to faulty brake shoe adjustment or erratic action of the shoes. It can also indicate a too thin brake drum, or need for chamfering the ends of the linings. But never guess at this. The first step is a brake inspection with the wheel removed.

Q. I notice that the steering wheel of my car comes back to the straight-ahead position very fast when I have rounded a corner. I have to be careful not to get my fingers in the spokes. Is this something that should be corrected? N. N. Jr.

A. You probably also notice that this car is hard to park and also difficult to steer on curves. It "retrieves" too fast. I would have a front-end specialist check this.

Q. In spite of having a ring job done the engine continues to use entirely too much oil. Pressure is normal. I have waited 2,000 miles for the new rings to set and for the pistons to pick up a little carbon, but the situation certainly is no better. A friend of mine did the job, and I know he used the best of rings. K. L.

A. A more skilled repairman would have done some work on the motor bearings of this engine when replacing the rings. At the mileage this car has traveled the connecting rod bearing inserts should have been replaced. Worn bearings allow oil to be tossed to the cylinder walls where it is extra work for the rings to seal.

PLUCKY SECANE POSTMISTRESS HAS RESIGNED

CHESTER, Pa. (P)—Mrs. Eleanor Kirkland, the postmistress from nearby Secane whose ultimatum to the Pennsylvania Railroad brought heat in a hurry to her chilly depot post office, has resigned.

But life will be more pleasant for her successor thanks to the plucky woman's efforts.

On a cold December morning last year, Mrs. Kirkland closed her Delaware County office in the Secane railroad station and posted this note on the door:

"Postoffice is closed until Pennsylvania Railroad provides heat and repairs three broken windows—temperature in postoffice at 6:30 a. m. 36 degrees."

She Got Action

The PRR acted quickly. The windows and the stove were repaired immediately and last month the PRR began renovations of the 82-year-old station. The postoffice now is situated in a temporary structure on the station parking lot. Its new quarters should be ready this fall.

On top of all these benefits, Mrs. Kirkland's resignation, submitted July 1, was handed in the very day she became eligible for a $500 annual increase.

Pays $4,770

Mrs. Kirkland explained she had resigned for health reasons and because "I am so utterly tired I want to get out."

She said she is remaining in the post only until a successor is chosen and added she is surprised to learn no one wants the job.

"Perhaps they think the pay isn't much. It's quite good—$4,770 a year," she explained.

Mrs. Kirkland was appointed six years ago by former President Truman and is a Democrat—a political rarity in this strongly Republican county.

Her successor, who will reap all the benefits of the new building and a higher wage scale, most probably will be a Republican.

Truck Overturns; Boy, 12, Is Killed

SUNBURY, Pa. (P)—A truck overturned at a curve Thursday, killing a 12-year-old boy and injuring 32 migrant laborers on their way home from work. The dead boy was identified as William Briggs, of Dell, Ark.

Twelve of those injured were taken to Sunbury Community Hospital but none of them was regarded in a serious condition. The others were treated at the scene.
